How to Build and Sustain a Social Movement
Movements are powerful drivers of change. When they are organized, coordinated, and strategic, movements can shift public opinion, spur legal and policy reform, and hold decision-makers accountable. Yet the work of movement building is often insufficiently valued and resourced. This session, featuring Leila Hessini, our Vice President of Programs, is for everyone who wants to learn about strategies for organizing, strengthening, and funding movements.

Room 202 – 204, Vancouver Convention Center
HOSTED BY: CENTER FOR REPRODUCTIVE RIGHTS, INTERNATIONAL PLANNED PARENTHOOD FOUNDATION, IPAS

1:30 pm – 2:30 pm
Taking to the Streets, Prevailing in the Courts: Demanding the Right to Safe Abortion
Advocates around the world are bravely demanding their right to abortion. Mobilization on the ground in countries and communities— and critical victories in the courts— have catalyzed legislative action. Yet challenges remain. In this session, facilitated by Musimbi Kanyoro, our President and CEO, recent examples from Argentina, Ireland, and Kenya will explore the legal strategies advocates are mobilizing to demand the right to safe abortion.

Room 205 – 207, Vancouver Convention Center

Creative Tensions
Creative Tensions is a format for collective conversation, expressed in movement, wherein participants reveal where they stand on an issue by where they stand in the room. Guided by a moderator and provoked by experts who approach a given topic from different perspectives, Creative Tensions is an eye-opening, reflective, and inspiring live experience that demonstrates the value of three fundamental concepts of human centered design — empathy, curiosity, and optimism.

Youth Zone, Fueling Station
HOSTED BY: IDEO.ORG AND GLOBAL FUND FOR WOMEN

5:00 pm – 7:00 pm
Launch of the Lancet Series on Gender Equality, Norms and Health
The newly launched Lancet Series explores how restrictive gender norms affect every aspect of peoples’ wellbeing. The Series offers new theoretical perspectives and evidence on what causes gender inequality and what works to address it, culminating in a call to action. Join Musimbi Kanyoro and the rest of the panelists for a disruptive session and help us create a movement to knock down barriers to gender equality.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5
5:00 pm – 5:30 pm

Film Screenings: SRHR
The Women Deliver Film Festival will feature a screening of “Racism and Patriarchy: The Battle for Women’s Rights in Brazil,” a sneak preview of our Fundamental film series. This episode features Lucia Xavier of Criola, who is part of a movement of powerful women activists reframing reproductive rights as an issue of women’s rights and racial justice. We also meet Daniele, an Afro-Brazilian lesbian activist who participates in protests and marches against the rise of the extremist president Jair Bolsonaro.

Fundamental is a character-driven documentary anthology series from award-winning director Sharmeen Obaid-Chinoy, presented in five 20-minute episodes. Each episode follows compelling women activists who are leading powerful movements for change, and gives viewers a window into the many ways rising threats to human rights shape the public and private lives of women, girls, and gender non-conforming people around the world.
